VARSITY WARRIORS OUTPLAY WESLEYAN BUT DROPS SCORE 7-0

Breaks Early In Game Give Down Country Rivals Necessary Lead

MIDDLEBURY SUPERIORITY CLEAN CUT

Blue and White Gridsters Rush 11 First Downs To Opponent's 5

By taking advantage of a bad punt and a fumble in the first quarter, Wesleyan defeated Middlebury varsity 7 to 0 at Middletown, Conn., Saturday afternoon. But the score does not tell the true story. Middlebury outrushed, outkicked, and outplayed her opponents throughout the entire game. Those two breaks in the opening of the half were just enough to give Wesleyan the edge.

Middlebury punted out of bounds in the first quarter. Osborne circled left end for 17 yards, then Tetley took the ball on a fake through center for the touchdown. Lee kicked his point. Wesleyan immediately went on the defensive after scoring, however, and for practically the remainder of the game fought on the defense. Twice Middlebury was on the point of scoring when breaks spoiled the opportunity.

Middlebury rushed 11 first downs to Wesleyan's five. As the third quarter began, five first-downs were made, one after another, and it seemed as if the score was to be tied at least. But Wesleyan took the ball with something like ten yards to go and the danger point was passed. Middlebury completed two forward passes to Wesleyan's one.

Exceptionally warm weather made football rather out of season, accounting for the listless play. Holden, giant Wesleyan tackle, was injured in the knee during the closing minutes of the first half; with his exception, there were only a few minor injuries.

MERRIMENT REIGNS AT Y. W. C. A. SOCIAL

Dean Eleanor S. Ross, Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Eleanor Manley, '27, and Julia Austin, '27, received the members of the freshman class last Saturday evening at the annual reception under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. social committee. As usual the event was held in McCullough Gymnasium and many of the women of the faculty were present to greet the entering students.

A "Kitchen Band" a humorous sketch, serious and humorous speeches, clogs and pantomines, songs, etc., helped to form part of a most original and entertaining evening.

The committee in charge were Edna Graham, chairman, Mary Birdsall, Beatrice Winch and Marion Morgan, '27; Adelma Hadley, Joyce Joslyn, Evelyn Dakin, Jane French and Helen French, '28; and Harriet Freeborn, '29.

Two Great Scholastic Offers Big Feature Official College Opening

President's Annual Address Delivered Before Student Body

"LEARN TO THINK" THEME OF HIS TALK

Not How But What Studied Finest Index Value of Education

"You are here to learn to think", this in essence was the theme of President Paul Dwight Moody's address delivered to the undergraduates on Thursday morning last at Mead Memorial chapel as Middlebury College opened with the largest enrollment in the 127 years of its history. He spoke in substance as follows:

"It surely is needful for those who are Freshmen and it ought not to be amiss for those who are part way through this phase of their education to pause on the very edge of the college year and try to see what a college education means, the reasons for your being here and the reason for the college itself being in existence."

"The longer the youth remains in the non-productive class the greater burden on home and society. The only justification for it is that when this period of non-production is over the youth has an added value which compensates for the delay."

"There are many of you who would find it difficult to say exactly why you are going to benefit by college or what exactly you expect college to do for you although in the minds of all there is a feeling that you are going to get something out of college. For those who have already decided on a career which calls for graduate work there is a partial answer—degrees are demanded by graduate schools. But why is this degree considered a requisite by law, medical, and theological schools? You can answer this generally by saying that college is expected to do something for you or to you."

"A great many definitions may be given of 'what we expect college to do for us' or of 'the aims of a college education' but you will not be far from wrong when you say 'You come to college to learn to think for yourself.'"

"The difference between the curriculum of school and college is largely here. In school you are primarily concerned with definite information which you absorb. In college you are concerned, or at any rate you should be, not with absorbing knowledge but in learning to use knowledge. Right here is the secret of the failure of college for many. They do not learn to think.

Racquet Wielders Start Annual Class Tournament

Middlebury's annual interclass tennis tournament to decide the tennis championship of the men's college has opened with nearly a score of undergraduates already registered for the first matches today. Entries closed last evening at six o'clock; matches were scheduled to begin this afternoon, on the courts behind Hepburn.

As has been done in years previous, the champions of all four classes are first found by matches among members of each class. Winners of these matches are paired, and the four victors battle for supremacy. Capt. Wolfskehl is watching the games closely, for material for the team which he will call together in the spring.

Registration Statistics

	Men	Women	Total
1927	43	56	99
1928	60	65	125
1929	99	79	178
1930	123	76	199
Undergrads	325	276	601
Grd. Stud'ts.	5	13	18
Total Student Body			619

The above figures show a sligthly larger enrollment as college opens, than was attained as a maximum last year. The highest number for 1925-26 being 595. This increase is in spite of the recent raising of entrance requirements.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN TEACHING STAFF

Absences, Resignations And Additions Bring New Instructors

As usual the college opens with several changes in the faculty personnel. Dr. Frank E. Howard of the Pedagogy department and Dr. Vernon C. Harrington, Boardman Professor of Philosophy have returned after a year's leave of absence. While Dr. Earnest C. Bryant, Head of the Department of Physic and Professor Frank W. Cady of the English department are absent on Sabbatical leave. To fill the places of absent instructors and because of the constant necessity of enlarging the teaching force five new instructors have been added to the faculty this fall.

Elliott Ward Cheney, A. B. M. S., who is taking Professor Bryant's place in the Physics department is a graduate of Dartmouth in the class of 1920. He obtained his M. S. from Brown in 1925. The last two years have been spent in research work at Princeton. Mr. Cheney has taught at Syracuse and at Brown Universities.

Carlus Howard Griffin, B. S. M. S., is teaching the Political Science and Economics courses conducted last year by Professor Luther I. Bonney. Mr. Griffin is a graduate of Washington and Lee and has his M. S. from Columbia. He has been teaching during the past year at Winston-Salem (N. C.) High School.

John Gerald Bowker, B. S., who is teaching all classes of the men's division of Freshman Mathematics obtained his degree from Tufts College, and has since graduation taught for two years in the Framingham High School.

William Northrup Morse, B. A. A. M., of Harvard and Harry Goddard Owen, B. S., Middlebury '23 have been added to the English department.

Mr. Morse, who is taking over the work in dramatics, debating, public speaking and creative writing is a graduate of Amherst college, class of 1904, and received his master's degree at the same institution in 1906. Mr. Morse has traveled widely and has both taught and written in his favorite line of

Annual Fellowships and Big Essay Prize to Reward High Ability

LARGE MONETARY AMOUNT INVOLVED

Scholarships $1,000—$1,500 $500 Essay on Designated Subject

Announcement of the establishment by the Hon. Redfield Proctor of Proctor, Vt., of the two annual Dutton Fellowships for one year's advanced work at home or abroad by Middlebury graduates, and of the large George Sedgwick Swift essay prize, the gift of Mr. Charles M. Swift, on the subject of "The World Does Not Owe Me a Living" were the two outstanding features of the official opening of the college on Thursday morning, September 23.

The Dutton Fellowships, two in number, are guaranteed to Middlebury by Mr. Proctor annually for five years. Their purpose is to enable two graduates of Middlebury to pursue advanced work in their chosen field either at some institution in the United States or in England or France. Both men and women are eligible for this award. The recipients of the Fellowships will receive the sum of one thousand dollars if the year's study is to be pursued in the United States; fifteen hundred if in England or France. Ex-Governor Proctor indicates that the winners are to be selected on a basis somewhat similar to that of the Rhodes Scholarships; literary and scholastic ability, character, leadership and physical vigor all being considered, with the greatest emphasis on intellectual ability and high character.

The Swift essay prize of five hundred offered by Mr. Swift in memory of his father is likewise to be given annually for five years. This opportunity is confined to the men's side of the hill and will be awarded for the most convincing original essay written by any Middlebury man now an undergraduate, on the subject named above. The award will be based not only upon the merits of the essays submitted, but also upon the way in which the writers of the essays exemplify in their own lives the theme which they treat. Further particulars concerning the length of the essay and the judges are to be given out later.

Charles M. Swift is a trustee of the college, president of the Manila Electric Railroad and Lighting Corporation and of the Philippine Railway Co. His home is in Ferrisburg, Vt.

Prominent Speaker At Women's College

Through the efforts of Dean Eleanor S. Ross the Women's College is to have the honor of having as guest, Sunday, October 3, Miss Adele Clark of Richmond, Va., Second Vice President of the National League of Women Voters. Miss Clarke will be entertained at dinner at Battell Cottage and will speak to the members of the Women's College in Pearsons Social Hall at two o'clock Sunday afternoon on "Citizenship".

Miss Clark formerly was Advisor of Women at William and Mary College. She is a woman of rare charm and an exceedingly interesting speaker.

The opportunity of hearing Miss Clark's talk is one to be highly appreciated. All members of the Women's College are cordially invited.

CUTLER TO REPLACE HARRIS AS EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF CAMPUS

Former Editor Not Coming Back For Last Year on Publications

MANAGING EDITOR ABBOTT NOT BACK

Leaves Secondary Position Vacant Till New Men Prove Fitted

Howard Walden Cutler '27 of Townshend, Vermont, was elected Editor-in-Chief of the Campus for the remainder of the editorial year at a special election by the Campus Board held in the Publication's office last Thursday afternoon. He takes the place of Mr. Lloyd C. Harris ex-'27 of South Hadley, Mass., who was elected last April to the office, but who is not returning to college this fall.

At the same meeting it was voted to leave open for the time being the office of Managing Editor, which position was likewise left vacant by the non-return to college of Celian H. Abbott, of Winchendon, Mass. This position will later be filled as material developes in order that the new managing policy inaugurated by the Campus staff last year may be continued.

Mr. Cutler brings to the office considerable previous experience on undergraduate publications, having been connected with the Campus as reporter and Assistant Editor from the first semester of his Freshman year until last May; at which time he retired in accordance with the new policy adopted last April for advancement of lower classmen, whereby Seniors were no longer eligible for Assistant Editors. He was also Editor-in-Chief of last year's 1927 "Black Panther" Kaleidoscope, the Junior annual, and has had some experience in publishing outside of college.

Beside publication work Mr. Cutler has been for three years a member of the Dramatic Club, and for two years of the French Club, serving last year as Secretary-Treasurer. He was, during Sophomore year, on the Vocational Guidance Committee, was Chairman of last year's Junior Week Invitation

SAXONIAN OFFERS ATTRACTIVE PRIZES

Prizes of $10 and $5 are to be offered for the best and second best short stories submitted to the Saxonian, the college literary publication, this fall, according to an announcement by the board. These prizes are to be given to the two men and two women who, in the estimation of the judges, write the best stories for the paper.

Although short story contests have been conducted by the Saxonian in years previous, this is the first year when distinct awards have been announced for men and for women. The stories must be limited to 3000 words in length, must be typewritten, and must be in the hands of the judges before November 1. Stories may be handed to Miss Alice Fales '28, Miss Abbott '27, Malam '28, Lance '27, Lee '28, or any other members of the board.

The judges of the stories are to be Professor Clark, Professor Owen, and Professor Burrage. Freshmen and sophomores particularly are urged by the board to contribute to the contest; elections to the Saxonian are based upon contributions of this sort.

The CAMPUS heartily welcomes communications but does not necessarily endorse opinions contained therein. All communications must be signed but the writer's name will be withheld on request.

Vol. XXIII. September 29, 1926 No. 1

To the class of 1930 the Editors of the Campus extend a hearty welcome, wishing for them four prosperous, happy and worth-while years at Middlebury.

"WE THROW THE TORCH"

Greetings—and a few words of explanation!

This issue of the Campus forms a new and wholly unexpected turn in the paper's already long and hectic career. The complete reorganization of the Editorial staff consequent upon the non-return to college of both the Editor-in-Chief and the Managing Editor has resulted in so radical a break in precedent as to involve the election to the office of Editor-in-Chief of a man not connected with the board and has temporarily suspended the functioning of the secondary office. Consequently re-outline of policy and declaration of principle seems imperative as a means of establishing a firm basis of understanding for the coming year.

First as to principle—the Campus will continue as heretofore to maintain an attitude of strict impartiality within its news columns, giving to all activities of each and every group all the space warranted by the Real News Value of the event. In its editorial columns the paper will to the utmost ability of the editor champion heartily all movements which seem to him undertaken for the best good of the student body and of the college. While on the other hand it will honestly and fearlessly condemn any and all actions, whether originating within the student body, the faculty, or the Alumni which shall seem unworthy of the college, detrimental to its progress, infringing upon the just personal liberty of its students, or injurious to the principles of fair play. As for communications, the Editor welcomes the same but reserves the right to reject any or all for publication.

Secondly—as to our constructive policies. The new Editor-in-Chief stands unequivocally by the major part of those published last May by his predecessor in office, and has added several himself to the list. The outstanding points are, in brief, as follows:

1. A keener undergraduate appreciation of scholarship.
2. Improvement of Porter field and of athletic facilities in general—the Gymnasium in particular.
3. An enlarged winter sports program with the ultimate idea of a winter carnival.
4. A more equitable distribution of student honors in college affairs and activities together with the awakening of student opinion in favor of more general interest for the welfare of all in college politics.
5. Reduction of disproportional influence of fraternities in college matters of major importance.
6. Honorary societies made truly honorary and representative of leaders in all major college activities.
7. Continuance in the future of the present common sense Frosh rules, an efficient Sophomore rules committee, and official sanction to an effective means of enforcing said rules.
8. Adoption by the college authorities of a set of common-sense and thereafter steadfast rules relating to the curriculum, such as regard majors and minors pre-requisites, division of study, graduation requirements, etc., so that both students and faculty may know for what they are aiming.
9. Carrying out and enlargement of the college authorities of their new plans for improvement of the college grounds so that each year shall see a considerable change for the better in all sections of the campus.
10. To endeavor to bring out promising leaders among lower classes by editorial advice and suggestion.

The above is our present working basis to be added to as new situations arise. In the prosecution of these policies the Editor will endeavor to keep himself free from personal bias or group prejudice, will try to find out all the facts before leaping at conclusions, and will welcome all criticism offered in a helpful spirit. We shall be as willing to give praise when such is due as to condemn when the latter is justified. Our mistakes may be many, but our aim will be right.

A CHALLENGE!

We particularly recommend to the earnest and thoughtful attention of every student the first page article in this issue relating to the establishment of the Dutton Fellowships and the Swift essay prize. These two remarkable offers of such magnitude to students of Middlebury are probably the most outstanding event in scholastic history here in many years. They are more than an offer—they are a challenge to the best that is in our student body to show that the college produces men and women of a mental and moral calibre deserving of such reward.

Lack of time for careful thought prohibits further editorial mention of the subject in this issue, but it will be again brought up in an early number with the greater attention that it deserves.

Several items of minor interest or less immediate importance have of necessity (owing to lack of space) been excluded from this week's columns but will be given space in the next issue.

CAMPUS TRYOUTS

All members of the Freshman or Sophomore classes wishing to try out for places on the Editorial staff of the Campus (including last year's candidates) report at the Publication's office, Room 16-17, top floor Old Chapel at 4:00 Thursday afternoon, September 30.

Be at the office promptly on time.

Moody Speaks Concerning Purpose of College

None of you when you graduate will have as much knowledge as an encyclopedia, but the difference is that you will be able to think for yourself if college has been of any value to you. This is why what you study never makes as much difference as what you study.

"The student who thinks and thinks through a subject, even though his recitations and examinations are not as smooth as those of his brother who learns in parrot-like fashion, is the true student. All this leads to the great problem of education. 'We can never measure a student by his marks.'"

"The examination is more like the clinical thermometer, it tells one thing and one thing only. The temperature of the blood is a useful thing to know but not all that is needed to be known by any manner of means. The result of our system is that the poor student works for marks and the scholar works for an understanding of the subject, which may or may not be revealed by the examination."

"The aim of thinking for one's self is to be able to distinguish truth from falsehood; real from unreal; the shadow from the substance. The truly educated man whether he has a degree or not can tell truth from sophistry. That is why in this civilization of ours an ever-increasing emphasis is placed on education and an ever-increasing number are going further each year in school and college."

"Every year it becomes more evident that we cannot master all knowledge. The purpose of education is not the mastery of education but the mastery of the mind, the training of the intellect."

"The aim of the college ought to be to make the marks and the diploma represent absolutely what the student knows. The aim of the student should be to make his knowledge, his fitness, his command of the subject, represent what the diploma stands for—what the degree means. By this and this alone, the continuous effort of the college and the continuous effort of the student, can the highest results be obtained, the value of the diploma be real and the significance of the degree be genuine.

GOOD TURNOUT FOR FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Line Promising Well, Backfield Not So Good As Last Year

Candidates for position on the yearling football team to the number of forty-five reported to Coach Reigleman at Frosh field last Friday in response to the call for opening practise. Work has been hampered by poor weather and partly because of this it is difficult to make predictions concerning the frosh eleven for this fall.

Contestants for places in the line look better, however, than did last year's strong team. More weight is in marked evidence. But the backfield material does not show so much promise. Lighter men may require extra work to round out an eleven that will again beat Vermont Frosh.

Coach Reigleman plans hard work for the squad during the next week, in preparation for the opening game of the season here in Middlebury with St. Anselm's, on October 16. The freshman schedule follows: Oct. 9, Norwich at Norwich; Oct. 16, St. Anselm's here; Oct. 23, Vermont 1930 at Burlington; Oct. 30, Williston Academy at Williston; Nov. 6, Troy Conference here.

COMMUNICATION

To the Student Body:

The itinerary for the Glee Club season of 26-27 is now in preparation. We hope that during the coming year the Glee Club will be able to include in its Spring tours localities which it has never before visited. But in order to accomplish this end, we must secure the cooperation of every member of the student body.

If there is in your home town any organization or club which would be interested in procuring the services of the Glee Club for a concert, please communicate with us at once.

Write your name, the name of the organization and the address on a slip of paper and give it to the men who will be at the door after Chapel service tomorrow morning, or drop it in the box provided for the purpose at the bookstore.

The success of the Glee Club should concern you. You can be of great assistance. Please cooperate with us. A little effort on your part saves us much expense and some fruitless labor.

(Signed) H. G. OWEN,
Faculty Manager.

NOTED CHURCH HEAD FOR VESPER SERVICE

Bishop Brent of Western New York, Speaker on Inspiring Theme

Bishop Brent, formerly bishop of the Philippines, president of the International Opium Conference, chief of the chaplain service of the A. E. F., during the war, and at present bishop of Western New York, addressed the first vesper service of the year in Mead Memorial Chapel Sunday, September 26, from the text "He spoke as one having authority."

"All of us are satellites," the bishop said, "We move in regular orbits about some planet—is it a worthy one? We are reminded of those who felt the worthiness of Christ as they listened to Him; they felt that 'He spoke as one having authority'.

"His effect on the lives of men, however, is relatively intangible. We have no real biographies of Him; the gospels relate only four or five years out of the thirty-three that he lived and only the genius of our day has undertaken to fill out the story of His life and create a literature about Him. First, he taught only what he had lived, a fact which shows that His teachings are not so impracticable as we are apt to think. He preached what he practiced; first He wrought, then He taught.

"He never did his own will, never even desired to do so. He knew and experienced the struggle between duty and preference, but always could sincerely say 'not my will but the will of Him who sent me' shall be done. He gained the only true freedom, that freedom which is complete obedience to something greater than self. Only when we are out of ourselves are we free and happy. In the intangible friendliness of God, we can find freedom.

"Christ always was master of the situation, always master of himself. He moved through the stormiest moments with the deepest calm. He kept that which Conrad spoke of as the complete possession of self which is the first requisite of service.

"Let us take Jesus Christ as the planet about which we would revolve; knowing him through literature, thru His teachings and through the companionship with Him that brings strength and encouragement at all times."

ELIGIBLES POSTED FOR "DEAN'S LIST"

Progressive Plan Open To Senior and Juniors of High Rank

The names of the men and women eligible for the "Dean's List" the privileges of which are to be made available to those ranking in the upper 20 per cent of the Junior and Senior classes who have obtained for the pevious semester an average of 85 with no mark below 80 is published below.

Any of these students desiring to avail themselves of the privileges of the Dean's List should make such request in writing to their Dean on or before October 1.

With certain reasonable restrictions students on the "Dean's List" will be allowed unlimited cut privileges in all classes. They are however given only the usual number of daily and Sunday chapel cuts. They must not cut preannounced tests, or classes coming immediately before or after vacations. If a student on the "Dean's List" cuts any class immediately before or after a college recess his or her name will be withdrawn and all cuts taken from the beginning of the semester counted as under the present regulations.

The following have the scholastic standing making them eligible for the "Dean's List":

1927 Men

Cutler, Ellsworth, Pinder, Williams.

1927 Women

Avitabile, Barker, Bean, Comings, Cox, Cross, Lewis, Manley, Menotti, Roberts, Southall, Spear, Thompson, Theve.

1928 Men

Hilliard, Malam, Maynard, R. H., Vecchiolla.

1928 Women

Abel, Bell, Beman, Bradley, Brainerd, Brown, Alice; Cross, Fales, French, Helen; Hay, Parsons, Robinson, Lois; Sargent, Thompson, Waterman, White.

PANTHER RARING TO TEAR UP WILLIAMS

Grandstand Section Held for Middlebury Men—Band Going

All is set for the varsity trip to Williamstown Saturday, Oct. 2, when the Blue and White confidently expects to humble Williams on the comiron. Arrangements have been completed for the reservation of a Middlebury cheering section, and the band is practicing overtime, after the reorganization necessary with the opening of college, to accompany the student body and carry Middlebury songs into Williamstown. The stage is set for a Black Panther victory.

Letters to alumni along the route south have notified them of the plans to make the Williams game our big one this year away from home. A Middlebury cheering section has been reserved, tickets for which may be obtained on the field at the price of $1.00 each. The game will be called at 2:30 p. m. on Weston Field at Williamstown. It is expected that a good crowd of ex-undergrads will be in the stands with their memories refreshed, ready to give throat to "a long Middlebury" when Captain Wiley leads his eleven onto the field.

Middlebury has met Williams on the gridiron for two years; each college has one victory to its credit. This season's contest will decide the stronger team.

Williams was defeated by Providence College 10 to 7 Saturday though Providence was outplayed, while Middlebury was losing to Wesleyan on breaks. All prospects point toward an even fight in the coming contest. Coach Klevenow is putting the squad through exacting workouts, to have every man in the best of condition. And on the campus today the cry is: "Williams! Everybody there!"

New Handbook Most Creditable

The 1926 College Handbook, edited by W. Storrs Lee '28 and published by the college Y. M. C. A. is a fine piece of work. Very neatly bound between limp, blue covers, it contains a wealth of information for all undergraduates. Regulations, various constitutions, campus organizations, publications, a short history of the college, a Who's Who and the Middlebury songs and yells are features of the Handbook which make it of equal value to upper classmen as well as to the first year men. Other members of the staff were: Grant Lavery, Arthur Brush and Clarence Young.

Change Made on Social Committee

Frederick O. Whittemore '28, of Brookline, Mass., has been appointed Junior member of the Social Committee of the Undergraduate Association in place of Gordon Wiley '28 of Glens Falls, N. Y., who resigned on account of pressure of other activities.

The committee is now made up of: Howard W. Cutler '27, Frederick O. Whittemore '28, and Raymond J. Saulnier '29.

The first informal dance of the season will be held in McCullough Gymnasium next Saturday evening, October 2. The college orchestra will furnish the music.

Mashie and Putter Fans Out For Championship

"Fore!" is the cry around campus this week as men from all four classes shake their putters and irons, as they go to battle for the annual undergraduate golf tournament to pick the champion of the college. Coach Brown posts lists tomorrow for the enrollment of all men who plan to compete for the crown; these lists are to be open until six p. m. October 6.

Following last year's procedure, each player puts his score day by day on the bulletin in the gym, until by the process elimination the champions of each class have proved themselves. These four play the final rounds for the college medal. Weston, '29, won the tournament last fall.

"Casey" Carries Tunney To Win Big Fight

Charles S. (Casey) Jones, Middlebury '15, and widely known in flying circles, piloted Gene Tunney from his training camp to Philadelphia in his 100-mile flight to fight Jack Dempsey Thursday night.

The plane landed at 1:15 p. m., making the trip in one hour and 26 minutes. The party had taken off from the Shawnee Country Club golf course at 11:49 a. m.

The landing was made after the "ship" had circled over the vicinity of the navy yard and also flown over the Sesqui stadium.

Changes in Kaleidoscope Board

Several changes in the personnel of the 1928 Keledioscope Board, necessitated by non-return of members to college were made last week.

Helen Northrop will take the place of Edith Markwell as Circulation Assistant, Katherine Burtis that of Elinor Holden as Women's Athletic Editor, George Eaton has been appointed Advertising Assistant in place of Warren Stearns, Richard Gould has been shifted from Advertising Assistant to Circulation Assistant in place of Carlton Dix, and Philip Dempsey will be the new Advertising Assistant.

Get Together Smoker at the Gym

The first smoker of the college year for the double purpose of welcoming the Freshmen into the social life of the men's college and for the bettering of acquaintance between upperclassmen and the Frosh, was held in McCullough Gymnasium Monday evening, September 27.

Speakers of the evening were President Paul D. Moody, Professor J. Moreno Lacalle, and Coach Arthur M. Brown.

HARRIERS PROMISE WELL FOR SEASON

Several Veterans Back and New Material Makes Fine Showing

With five veteran runners leading the pack of 16 men who have reported for training, Coach Brown is highly optimistic over the prospects of a good cross country season for Middlebury this fall. Whiting, '27, Stoughton, '27, Clement, '28, and Arnold, '28, all members of last year's regular six-milers, are pushing hard a fine showing of underclassmen.

Captain "Bill" Donald, '28, has not returned to college as yet, but he expects to report in togs either the last of this week or the first of next. A letter from him to Coach Brown says, "I am in the best of condition and eager to get into Middlebury's best cross-country season."

Watson, '29, who ran the mile on the varsity while a freshman two years ago, has come back to college and shows promise. Witt, '29, varsity two-miler, also is among the number who do the long grind daily.

Bad weather at the end of last week gave the squad poor roads for training, but despite this difficulty, the men are showing exceptional ability for this time of the season. Middlebury's schedule includes meets with Williams here, with R. P. I. at Rensselaer, and with the University of Vermont here. A fourth meet is still pending.

The complete list of Freshmen and Transfers will be published in next week's Campus.

Four-mile belt conveyor—the longest in the world—installed in a Pennsylvania mine for transporting coal from mines to river barges. Electric motors operate this conveyor.

90,000 Wheelbarrows in one hand

A button is pressed. An electric motor goes to work, followed by another and still others until twenty sections of a belt conveyor four miles long are in operation!

Through an abandoned mine runs this giant wheelbarrow carrying nine thousand tons of coal per day in a steady stream from the miners to the coal barges on the Monongahela River. One man controls it with no more effort or concern than pressing a switch button. Electricity pushes it.

Not only conveyor belts of all sizes, shapes and kinds, but also hoists, tractors, cranes, elevators, stackers, locomotives, and other material-handling equipment have gained flexibility, dependability, and ease of control through electric motorization.

Moving things in one way or another is the educated man's work in life. And electricity, ever at his command, is moving more and still more of the things which move this new world of ours.

The General Electric Company has devoted years of study to material-handling and transportation problems. In its own vast plants the handling and moving of materials and products have been simplified to the highest degree, thus providing a daily demonstration of the value of electricity.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

When peg-tops were in flower

PRINCE ALBERT has been the campus favorite since the days of long-haired fullbacks, high button shoes, turtle-neck sweaters, and hand-painted dormitory cushions. This same wonderful tobacco is even more popular in these days of plus-fours.

And no wonder. Throw back the hinged lid of the familiar red tin and release that rare aroma of real tobacco! Tuck a load into your pipe and pull that fragrant P. A. smoke up the stem! That's Prince Albert, Fellows! Nothing like it anywhere.

When problems press and your spirits slip over into the minus column, just get out your jimmy-pipe and load up with this really friendly tobacco. P. A. is so kind to your tongue and throat and general disposition. Buy a tidy red tin today.

PRINCE ALBERT
—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.
